A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY: Righteous Seen and Heard.—For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers.—1 Peter 3:12.

A MISTAKE: A newspaper, like an individual, when it makes a mistake should correct it. The Advocate has always made it a rule whenever it made a mistake to correct it upon discovering the mistake.

William Glover, recently of the Oregon Grille, is on the extra waiters' list at the Portland. George Roberts, who recently resigned as waiter in the Oregon Grille, is hibernating on a dining-car.

Roy Blackburn, for several years a waiter at the Portland, is taking a ten days' vacation. In the meantime, he is beautifying his lawn at his new home.

John Bland, a well informed hotel man, who is now employed on a dinner, was a pleasant caller at the Portland this week. Bland formerly worked there.

W. E. Holt, a new-comer to the city, has been installed as the official mule at the Portland.

W. E. Thomas, who has been acting as official mule at the Portland for most of the fall and winter, has thrown up the job and will in a few days, with Mrs. Thomas, leave the city for sunny California.

EDITOR KANSAS CITY SUN DEAD: As we go to press we received the sad news that Nelson C. Crews, versatile and virile editor of the Kansas City (Mo.) Sun for many years, died at his home the 24th of last month. The particulars are not known to us.

"Bill" Bowers is convalescing nicely at his home, 293 Ivy street, following a painful accident to his knees, sustained while at his work at the North Bank station.

Gaston Campbell, who has been a little indisposed the past week, is again hard at it with his bond sales.

MASSACHUSETTS TURNS DOWN MARRIAGE BAR: Boston, Mass., April 21.—The speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives sent word to the Boston Branch of the National Equal Rights League that the rules committee of which he was the chairman had decided to report adversely on suspending the rules to admit the bill forbidding marriage between "persons of different color."

TACOMA CORRESPONDENT RETIRES: With this issue, our efficient Tacoma correspondent retires from our staff, much to our regret, and to those who have read her newsy reports of Tacoma happenings. She writes that she is moving to another city very soon and therefore will not be able to continue her work on The Advocate. Mrs. Hamilton has done excellent work as reporter and The Advocate certainly appreciates it.

Young People's Day will be observed this Sunday. A special sermon will be preached at the morning service, subject "Success—What is It?"

Rev. and Mrs. Fox and Miss Robert Summers returned from the District Conference and Sunday School Convention, which met at Yakima, Washington, last week, elated over the wonderful success of the convention.

FEAST OF THE EL RIZWAN

Saturday evening, the 28th, more than half a hundred of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Latimer, 297 East 38th street, N., in Rose City Park, through invitation of the hosts, to participate in and enjoy the Feast of the El Rizwan. El Rizwan is a persian word, the meaning of which is the combination of host, invitations and guests. The majority of those in attendance were Bahais or friends of the movement, which teaches the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. A delightful program was enjoyed, in which George Latimer gave a brief explanation of the feast, a resume of his trip to the Holy Land, where he visited, ate, and talked with the late Abdul Baha; a group of Cadman's pieces, and the Juba dance by Nathaniel Dett were played by Mrs. Daisy Hunt. Dr. Minard, of the Divine Science church, gave a brief talk on unity; Mrs. Baker, a sister-in-law of Ray Stannard Baker, here from California, gave an interesting talk on the "Soul"; Mrs. Latimer read a delightful letter, written at sea, from Miss Martha Root, who is now teaching the cause in Japan. The letter was most charming and was brimful of information and love for the friends in America. Mrs. E. D. Cannady gave a talk of her association and knowledge of the work, and expressed deep appreciation for the beautiful teaching of Abdul Baha and Baha O'lah. Following the spiritual side of the feast, the guests participated in the material side, which consisted of delicious ice cream, cakes, candies, coffee, etc. During the social hour, Mrs. Cannady sang. Other noted among the guests were Mrs. Jack Gulliford of Dawson, Y. T., and Mrs. Ruth Flowers of East First street.

LOUISIANA WOMEN JOIN GOOD WILL MOVEMENT

New Orleans, La., May 1.—An important step in the Southern movement for better race relations was taken in New Orleans March 21-23, when more than forty of Louisiana's prominent women, leaders in religious and civic organizations met to study the situation, formulated a vigorous statement in behalf of good will and justice between the races. They joined the Race Relations Committee and declared that only Christian principles can solve the South's race problem. One of the strongest paragraphs in their paper was the one against lynching, declaring that it was inexcusable and must go.

IN THE REALM OF SOCIETY

(By Tricia Broaux) Yellow and white flowers adorned the table and the dining room. Yellow candles and a pretty pink and white birthday cake were attractive. The youngsters enjoyed themselves with music and games and had a most delightful time. Master George was the happy recipient of a bicycle from his parents and useful bicycle accessories were presented by his little guests.

Entertained at Dinner: Arthur Leiton of Oakland, Cal., was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morrow, 843 East 8th street N., Wednesday evening, the 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks Entertain: Mr. and Mrs. George W. Weeks entertained Rev. A. R. Fox and family with an elaborate dinner Saturday evening, the 28th, upon the latter's return from the district conference at Yakima, Wash.

Birth Day Dinner Enjoyed: Editor and Mrs. E. D. Cannady were hosts at a delicious dinner Tuesday evening, in honor of their oldest son's 10th birthday anniversary. Sharing honors with Master George Cannady were Rev. and Mrs. Magruder and their interesting family and Mrs. lone Askew. Dainty pink, daffodil yellow and white formed the color scheme employed.

Dinner Party Enjoyed: Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. David Hepburn and Mr. Johnson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Williams on Meade St. Sunday, the 22nd of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Simms Hosts: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Simms, 530 E. 15th Street, were hosts at a dinner Sunday. Covers were laid for five. Those who enjoyed the feast were J. W. Boits, porters' instructor; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Patton, and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Fuller Visits in Canada: H. D. Fuller is in receipt of a telegram from Winnipeg, Canada, where his wife is visiting an old school mate, Mrs. Clem Dorsey of Louisville, Ky. Having started back home, she will come over C. P. R. to Vancouver, B. C., to enjoy the beautiful scenery of the Canadian Rockies. She expects to arrive about the middle of May.
