At the close of the program an informal reception was held downstairs and everyone enjoyed the entire affair. Branches Raise Big Fund

The branches of the N. A. A. C. P. raised during 1924 the sum of $42,000 for the annual National budget. This is reported to have been the best year for the association in this respect. During the year 134 branches fully reached their apportionment, as compared with 41 in 1923 and 37 in 1922. Some 93 branches exceeded their apportionment, those in New York and Philadelphia turning in more than $5000 each.

In making this announcement, Robert W. Bagnall, Director of Branches, said: "The N. A. A. C. P. gained substantially during the year in contributions from large numbers of colored people. Support has been much more widespread, and the most encouraging progress has been made in the South, New Orleans for example, raising almost $7,000 in its fight against residential segregation."

Pioneer Citizen Passes

Mrs. Anita Leona Gilbert-Taylor Dies at Age of 60 Years—A Portland Pioneer—Leaves Large Estate Funeral Large and Costly

Mrs. Anita Leona Gilbert-Taylor, known better to Portland residents as Mrs. Morris Taylor, died at her home, 339 San Rafael street Wednesday, Jan. 7, 1925, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mrs. Taylor was born sixty years ago in Charleston, S. C., on the 22nd day of February and came to Portland when quite young and remained until her death. For forty-three years she has been a substantial, industrious, highly respected and loved citizen of Portland. Here she earned her fortune which is estimated high into the thousands. In San Francisco in 1881, she married Mr. Morris Taylor, and from there they came to Portland. Later the couple agreed to disagree and Mrs. Taylor divorced her husband, and never remarried.

If there was one thing Mrs. Taylor loved more than another, it was her church. She was a member of the Holy Rosary church, East 3rd and Clackamas streets for 31 years, and it was from this church her beautiful and costly funeral was held. It is said by a very dear friend of Mrs. Taylor, that during the whole time she knew Monday she would take the Holy Communion, and on every Sunday and every her which was more than 14 years, she had never known her to miss her daily communion. Mrs. Taylor had many friends, but owing to the fact she was a member of the Catholic church, it took her away from her own people, who are few in that faith here, most of the time. Her dearest friend, Mrs. Henrietta Williams-Marshall, herself a staunch member of the Catholic church, was, however, always to be found at her side when she needed of illness it was Mrs. Marshall who attended her sick bedside and gave her comfort and cheer, and it is said she remembered Mrs. Marshall in her will.

Mrs. Taylor was a staunch friend to those whose friendship she laid claim and she was always pleasant and kind to them. She was indeed a charming woman; not always to be seen out, but in her quiet and unassuming way, she did much good and disseminated much sunshine among those with whom she came in contact. She was an excellent nurse and it was while practicing this profession she earned her earthly possessions.

The funeral, conducted by Father Skelley, Monday, Jan. 12, was one of the finest, if not the finest ever held for a colored person in the city and is said to have cost $1000. Requiem High Mass was held which is the highest honor given the deceased by the church. Interment was held in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Messrs. J. A. Wisdom, Ernest Morton, Jno. C. Logan, W. H. Rutherford, William Cain and George Kenny were the pallbearers. Friends recall when Mrs. Taylor purchased her residence on San Rafael

CARTER SIGNS PACT FOR RE-OPENING TUT'S TOMB—AGREEMENT WITH EGYPTIAN GOVERNMENT SAID TO IGNORE CARNARVON

Cairo, Jan. 13.—Howard Carter, discoverer of Tut-Ankh-Amen, has signed an agreement with the Egyptian government for resumption of work on the tomb. The details remain unknown but it is believed that the work will be independent of Carnarvon's trustees. Carter, who today saw the premier, is proceeding to Luxor shortly to reopen the tomb, which it is likely will again be the great attraction of the Egyptian season.

Nashville Chamber of Commerce Gets News on Lynching From New York

New York, N. Y.—The Nashville, Tenn., Chamber of Commerce, has written a letter to Walter White, Assistant Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in New York City, acknowledging receipt of information about the recent lynching of Sammie Smith, a 15-year-old colored boy, taken from a hospital bed to which he was chained, and lynched by a mob. Despite rewards of $5,000 offered for evidence leading to conviction of the lynchers, "no clues" have been discovered in Nashville. Mr. White sent the Chamber of Commerce the names of four white men who had visited the colored lad in the hospital and warned him of his impending death. Mr. White acquired this information during a stay of 15 hours in Nashville, although police, detectives, Chamber of Commerce had "no clues" to the identity of the lynchers.

In response, Will R. Manier, Secretary of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce, wrote: "I thank you for the information contained in your letter of the 27th, in regard to the Sammie Smith lynching. I have passed same over to the detective agency that is investigating the matter for the Chamber of Commerce." Thus far no reports have come from Nashville of any arrests or prosecutions in connection with the lynching.

street, they got lost in the woods looking for her home. This location is now in the heart of the residential-business section of the city. One of the happiest times in the life of the deceased was when her friend, Mrs. Marshall was married, January 26th, 1921. Upon this occasion, Mrs. Taylor was permitted to enter the Sanctuary as the bride's mother, and she was buried in the gown she wore at Mrs. Marshall's wedding. Mrs. Taylor leaves to mourn their loss a sister, Mrs. Manice Simmons, New York City; a niece and grand niece, Misses Jeanette and Viola Rice of Sacramento, California.
