Baha'i Group
The Circleville Baha'i Group met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. W. Robinson, E. Parkway street. After the devotional period, Mrs. Blanche Motschman led a discussion on the subject of "Consultation," based on an article entitled "Consultation is an Art," by Doris Holley. The principle is one of the basic requirements of the Baha'i social order. Mrs. W. J. Graham concluded a study of "The Laboratory of Life," by Louise B. Boyle. During the social hour the hostess served refreshments, using spring flowers as the centerpiece for her table, with violet clusters in vases.

Psychologist to Speak

"A Way Out of Chaos" will be discussed at 4 P. M. tomorrow at Philadelphia headquarters of the Baha'i Faith, 10 S. 18th st., by Dr. Stanwood Cobb, psychologist and author of the book "Security for a Failing World."

Unhappy Landings

Miss Hilda Yen, Chinese fier tourist in America in behalf of war refugees, survived a crash this week near Montgomery, Ala. But at Memphis three men were killed in a newspaper-plane smashup.

Names Are News

There are now 418,000 Smiths on the social register rolls. The Johnsons, Browns, Williamses, Millers and Joneses follow in order.

FAIRYLAND SUGGESTION

Within the Temple are hundreds of objects worthy of hours of contemplation and study. Besides the inscription "If we walk in the light, we have fellowship one with another," it Margaret Hottes's painting of a group of women, suggesting harmony and happiness. Outside the Temple's walls, "Creation" also attracts the attention of many visitors.

Included among the interesting exhibits in the Temple is a model of the Baha'i Temple at Wilmette, Ill., a pastel showing the Baha'is welcoming guests into parades, and Bibing of the Reformation flag, including an original Martin Luther Bible of 1548. Only nine of these Bibles are in existence today. Also there is a letter written 188 years ago by Bishop Berkeley, after whom Berkeley was named.

It Was Mrs. Atwater

To the Editor of the Miami Daily News:

In reading your Forum column Sunday I found an article entitled "Must Follow Laws of God," without a signature. I would like to know if this is Margaret H. Atwater? We read all of her articles and would miss that kind of thought in your paper.

Miami. OLIVE E. KRETZ.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter referred to was written and signed by Mrs. Atwater. The signature was too published through a mechanical error.)

Hottel, Mrs. Blanche Madsen explained the "Four ways of acquiring knowledge." The study of "Baha'i Administration" brought out as its key thought, "Universality is of God and all limitations earthly." Mrs. Robinson served refreshments during the social hour.

Widow Of D. A. Dorsey To Build Mausoleum
Rebecca Dorsey, widow of the late D. A. Dorsey, negro leader and long-time Miami resident who died Feb. 25, will construct a $2,600 mausoleum for her husband. Judge W. F. Blanton in probate court yesterday approved her request to be allowed to spend $1,800 of her husband's estate, estimated at $150,000. To this sum she plans to add $1,800 of her own funds, reserving the second of two crypts in the mausoleum for her own body when she dies.

BANGKOK JOB

A Chicago Tribune correspondent, Guy Murchie, was wounded yesterday during a bombing of Dover. So far as can be recalled, he is the first casualty among American newspapermen, who have been covering the great war in Europe, although during the Spanish war, Eddie Neill, Associated Press correspondent, was killed at the front.

The wounding of Murchie brings to attention the dangerous risks confronting the men who today are giving American first-hand news of the greatest battles of history. They are actually taking their lives in their hands, while reporting the stories of death and destruction in England and elsewhere.

The war correspondent is the cream of American reporters and that he is also a doughty individual is daily impressed on readers by his eyewitness versions of terrific engagements. His worth is more respected as we read of one falling in the line of duty.
