of them. "My Lord, What a Morning" by Marian Anderson. Marian Anderson's account of her life is something like her well-known voice, effortless, inspiring and deeply moving. Particularly moving is her philosophic patience toward race prejudice, which she has endured with sadness rather than anger, rising above the heat of the moment to more important things, like singing.

A film on the Baha'i faith will be shown Monday at the Surfside Community Center, 9301 E. Collins Ave. in Miami Beach. The film, titled "And His Name Shall Be One," will begin at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a discussion. Admission is free and open to the public.

Ali Kalantar an expert on Persian art and culture will speak on the Baha'i Faith - a new way to bring all mankind together - on Friday, Feb. 10, 8:00 p.m. in King Religion Center N.C. State University. FLOWERS SOFTEN

Race Unity Day Set by Baha'i

June 30 has been set as Race Unity Day by the Bahá'í Faith in Geyserville. This is the fifth annual observance and the theme will be "Mankind as One." A picnic and public meeting at Potter Park will be held as part of the observance. The featured speaker of the event will be Kenneth Jeffers, Nebraska's delegate to the National Bahá'í convention. He will speak on the universality of mankind. Geyserville has one of the 4,000 Bahá'í communities. The Bahá'í Faith was founded in Persia in 1848 and is now established in 212 countries.

Baha'i Observing Race Unity Day

Bahá'ís of Lansing have planned a public meeting in Potter Park at 11 a.m. Sunday to observe Race Unity Day of the Bahá'í faith. The observance is based on teachings of Bahá'u'llah, prophet-founder of the Bahá'í faith, who declared over 100 years ago: "The earth is but one country, and mankind its citizens."

WORLD PEACE DAY will be observed by the Baha'is of Greenville with a talk by James Brown Sept. 21. The purpose of World Peace Day, according to the Baha'is, is to spread the recognition of America's spiritual destiny to raise the standard of peace in the world. Inaugurated in 1959, the day is sponsored annually by the National Baha' Assembly.

Baha'is To Mark World Peace Day
On Sunday, Sept. 21, the local Baha'i Community will observe World Peace Day with a talk by Clarence Schwab of Milwaukee. The meeting is open to the public and will be held in the Civic House of Security First Bank at 9 p. m. Baha'is in more than 3,000 locations throughout the country will commemorate the event, established in this country in 1960 to mark the centennial of the Baha' Faith in this country in 1960, a year after the death of its originator's Founder.

Baha'i Ron Cavalin moving
Ron Cavalin, 40, of 1000 N. 1st St., is moving to 1000 N. 1st St. in Cloverdale, Calif. He is a Baha'i and is moving to be closer to his Baha'i friends.

Baha'i Faith
Dr. Hamilton Niss of Indianapolis will speak on "How to Know God" during the 10:30 a.m. park breakfast of the Baha'i Faith Sunday. The meetings are conducting in Highland Park near the Syracuse Slump. In case of inclement weather, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eriksson, 406 E. North St., will host the meeting.

World Peace Day Observance Set
The Baha'i Faith community will observe World Peace Day on Sunday, Sept. 21, at 9 p.m. at the First National Bank in Greenville. The observance is open to the public.

Around the City
BALEIGH Baha'i Community will hold a public meeting on World Peace Day at 8 p.m. today at 750 Blenheim Drive. For information, phone 783-9473.
