PERNIA.
Mohammed Khan, the charge d'affaires of Persia at Constantinople, has received from his government despatches announcing the discovery of a vast conspiracy at Teheran, which had been on the point of breaking out. The news indicates, however, that the charge was at the head of this plot, whose object was to assassinate the present Shah, and replace him by a descendant of Ali, and to drive all the Turks out of Persia. Mohammed cannot but have placed at Teheran and in the principal towns. The greater part of these were being to the verge of the Usbeks. Considerable agitation prevailed in Persia consequent on this discovery.

New York Daily Times
The youthful Shah of Persia, has proclaimed liberty of conscience and toleration to all religions within his kingdom, through the influence of the British consul at Teheran, aided by the British army at the Persian court.

Within twenty miles of St. Louis River the Lake was an obstructed work, so that it was found impossible to proceed, and he was consequently obliged to return and load his freight and passengers at La Pointe.

PERNIA.
Letters from Teheran of the 20th inst. bring the news of an attempt to assassinate the Shah of Persia. While the Shah was in the city, he was the victim of a plot, which was discovered by the British consul at Teheran, who was assisted by the British army at the Persian court. A strange airship has been seen in various places in Wisconsin and eastern Nebraska by railway men and others. It appears that a rule against drinking while on duty should be enforced on these railroad men.

The mysterious airship has disappeared so completely, that people who were half inclined to believe it might be real are beginning to think it was only an out of date April fool joke.

It is reported from Enterprise, Kansas, that C. B. Hoffman, the man who has been playing hammer and eggs with the agricultural college, is a member of a new religious sect organized out there by a gentleman by the name of Ibrahim Khelella, late of Arabia. The religion is said to be a conglomeration of mysticism, rationalism and messianism. With wheels of that kind in his head it is no wonder Hoffman wants to grudge things up.

Many Kittery people went to Greenacre Saturday afternoon and enjoyed the lecture delivered by Hezekiah Butterworth, the famous writer. The Kitterys are anxious to secure games with other amateur teams in this vicinity. Services at the various churches on Sunday were unusually well attended. The congregations were augmented in several instances, by visitors from York, Eliot and Portsmouth. Nearly all those who have been ill are on the road to recovery.

Large crowd of people gathered at the Greenacre station on Saturday afternoon. The train was crowded with passengers. Many people were seen walking along the road. The scenery was very beautiful. The train arrived at Greenacre at 4:30 p.m. and departed at 5:30 p.m. The passengers were very pleased with the trip. The train was very comfortable and the service was excellent. KITTERY POINT.

Kittery Point, Me., August 22. Mrs. W. F. Bartlett of Lynn, Mass., is the guest of her parents here. The fish and game wardens are very active in this vicinity just now. The lecture of Hon. W. W. Stetson at Greenacre the other day attracted many from here, who never miss the opportunity of hearing this interesting and scholarly speaker. His subject was "The Path We Have to Travel," and was listened to with the closest attention by the select audience. Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Staphle of South Portland, Me., at the Sunday, the 24th, the three Hawaiian Sunday schools of Makawae, Fawala and Pooki will meet together at Pooki Church, Makawae, and hold a "Farewell" to be followed by a "Lull". Misses Mary and Agnes Alexander, of Honolulu, are visiting at the C. H. Peckys, Hahaione. Miss Helen Beckwith of California is at the residence of her grand parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Beckwith of Hama-huae. Miss Ada Whitney of Honolulu is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. E. Beckwith, at Maunaloa Seminary.

Greenacre has enjoyed the most prosperous season in its entire history, this year. The lectures and concerts given there nearly every day during the summer are very interesting, and have always attracted many Portsmouth people, but the difficulty in reaching the place has deterred many from going. This difficulty has been overcome by the completion of the electric road to Greenacre, and on some days almost everybody in Portsmouth who could possibly get away has taken advantage of the opportunity provided to secure a rich musical and literary treat.

BENEFIT CONCERT.

Miss Grace Mae Clare, of the Church of the Ascension choir, New York, and pupil of Miss Emma Thursday, has generously given her services at Greenacre all summer. For this reason, her friends will give her a benefit concert at the Congregational church this Saturday evening, at eight o'clock. Ferry leaves five minutes to seven o'clock. Miss Clare sings at Poland Springs Sept. 9.

DEATHS AND CHANGES.
Among the notable deaths of life insurance men during 1912 were the following:
None of the important changes of company officers during the year were as follows:
H. S. Cunningham resigned as insurance commissioner of Missouri to become

Noted Archaeologist Speaks At Crestline Lecture Hour
Dr. E. C. Getalinger, of Hollywood, noted archaeologist who is spending the summer at his cabin near Crestline, entertained a large group of Labor day visitors with an illustrated lecture on "Ancient Egypt" Monday night in the Native Sons hall at Crestline.
Dr. Getalinger spoke from personal experience he has had in making Egyptian excavations.

Helen Keller Announces Her Conversion To Mystic Cult
NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Bahai-faith cult, a mystic faith originating in Persia, has claimed a new convert in the person of Helen Keller, famous blind and deaf woman. Miss Keller announced her conversion at a meeting of the cult at the Ritz-Carillon.

Helen Keller Denies Mystic New Faith
Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Helen Keller, the famous blind and deaf woman, has denied her conversion to the Bahai-faith cult, a mystic faith originating in Persia, which she had announced at a meeting of the cult at the Ritz-Carillon.

Apparently vanished after reaching that city.
—A mysterious jump in memory of Rear Admiral George C. Remy, U. S. N., of this city and Washington, has been presented to St. John's Church, Portsmouth, N. H., by his son, Charles Mason Remy, of Washington. For years Admiral Remy was the oldest retired officer of the navy. While in command of the Portsmouth navy yard, he was a communicant at St. John's Church for eight years. Bishop John T. Dillies of New Hampshire will consecrate the lamp May 11.

ENVOY'S DAUGHTER WEDDED SECRETLY
San Francisco, June 3 (AP)—Maurice Nabal, daughter of Dr. Ali Kuli Khan, formerly Persian minister at Washington, has confessed that she was married secretly a year ago to Howard Carpenter, medical student at Stanford.

PROVEN WOMEN
SARAH A. FENWICK
Miss Fenwick, who is the wife of a prominent business man, is the only woman in the world who has been proved to be a woman.
