Dear Harriet

~~Those~~ ^{circle} ~~are~~ around the Master ~~nowadays~~ are very happy because he is enjoying complete health of body.
Although he has emphasized repeatedly that the spiritual health is all-important and that his spirit is free and above any human illness, yet we cannot help but ~~be~~ distressed when he is not feeling well ~~physically~~ and ^{feel} ~~be~~ correspondingly joyous when he is in the utmost of health. His Presence, under all circumstances radiates Peace and happiness.
Day unto day through his divine Patience he is adding new stones to this Temple of the Bahai Cause, gathering new laborers and masons and collecting fresh materials. Whether the whole world praise him or blame him, he is the same, eternal being. He is free of all ties except the Cause of God. All the traces of self and personality are lost in him.

He is the embodiment of disinterestedness.
He loves us for the sake of Baka Allah.
If he gives us any counsel, it is conducive to our ^{own} spiritual development. He is the loving father of the world of humanity.
He is the glorious light that shineth in darkness, illuminating the path of wandering travellers. He is the fountain of eternal life that allays the thirst of the thirsty ones. Through him we receive the inexhaustible treasures of spirituality. His Power makes the army of the Lord invincible!
His Teachings encourage us to rise higher and higher toward the throne of the Almighty! His words are the imperishable flowers of the paradise of Akha!

This morning after drinking tea in his holy Presence, he dictated many Tablets for the believers of London. We receive ~~always~~ excellent reports about the progress of the Cause in that great metropolis. Of late Miss Buckton, Mrs Fraser and "General" Jack have been ^{to} ~~in~~ Edinburgh, have given many lectures and as a result a weekly meeting is organized. The next step they are going to take is to go to Liverpool and Manchester. They are now ^{drilling} preparing their ^{little army} heavenly artillery so that when they reach the field of operation they will carry a vigorous campaign. England is alive to the opportunities of the Cause and therefore the friends are doing their utmost to promote the Glad-tidings of the Kingdom of Alpha.

3 Afterward several friends from America found themselves in the Presence of the Beloved and they asked whether the efforts of Mr Wilson and Mr Bryan toward the realization of international Peace will have anything of a tangible result. He answered: Of course. These two men are sincere and honest in their aims and purposes and I pray to God that they may become ^{successful}. They are the servants of universal Peace and the owners of the world of humanity. America has the Capacity of becoming the standard bearer of international Peace. Geographically it is a vast Continent far away from the jealous eyes of the envious neighbors; politically democratic and holding aloof from the ^{unpleasant} political complications of Europe. Therefore America is the readiest and the freest nation to arise in the service of humanity.

and initiate new plans of philanthropy and encourage the establishment of ^{eternal} Peace throughout all parts of the world.
I always pray that the banner of international Comunity and the solidarity of human race may be hoisted in America.
To a number of ~~other~~ callers he said: "I am most pleased with America. I ever supplicate in behalf of America so that the Confirmations of His Holiness Baha-Ollah may encircle it." After this many friends went into his presence and received from his Silvery lips the Holy words of light. He did not speak to the assembled believers but met instead individually every one in the Holy of Holies. For lunch he ^{went} retired to Martha - Pension and after his return Mon, Dreyfus and Gaern magan ^{waiting for him} were in the hotel. He talked with them for awhile and then took his daily nap.

 In the afternoon he called me and ^{we} walked ^{together} with him to 22 Rue de Tremaille where Moncer Pasha lives. He was not home, ^{but} the Master tired with walking ^{he} stayed for half an hour in the room of the Concierge. He had two or three packages of candy and dried fruit in his pocket and gave of them liberally to the little child of the Concierge.
 Coming out of the house ^{we saw} a mother with her lovely child was going out.
 The child was ^{very} so attractive and had such blue eyes that the Master smiled and he caressed her and gave her money and candy. Then we got a carriage and through the avenue Alma ~~we~~ had a wonderful drive through the Bois de Boulogne. The Beloved ^{he} came down in front of the cascade and sat down submerged in a sea of thought.

It was long after eight when we reached home. I did not feel well at all and went ^{right} to bed. All night I was suffering with a fiery fever and called on Baha-Ollah and the Beloved ever so many times. The Doctor tells ^{me} that I must not work for three weeks and keep perfectly quiet.

My goodness! How could I do this? I can't sit quiet or stay in bed even one day. Every morning I must be up and busy at 5 or the utmost 5³⁰ o'clock. Doctor is talking through his hat, Isn't he? I am going to be well in a few days.

In the evening three very important Persian gentlemen came to see the Master. Now and then I could hear him speak with such earnestness and power that it was exhilarating. Although they were Mohomedans, European ^{education} thought had so influenced them that they had lost their faith in the Arabian prophets and the Master was giving them proofs and evidences as to his prophethood. The enemies had always spread around that the Bahais deny Mohamad - just as our antagonists in the west pretend that we are against Christ - so these ^{Muslim} people were very much shame-struck and dumb-founded that the Beloved was proving to them incontestably the prophethood of their own Divine Messenger. They left the heavenly Presence at about half past eleven, wonderfully impressed by the utterances and knowledge of Abdul Baha.

Love to all

Almas
